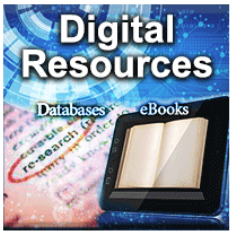
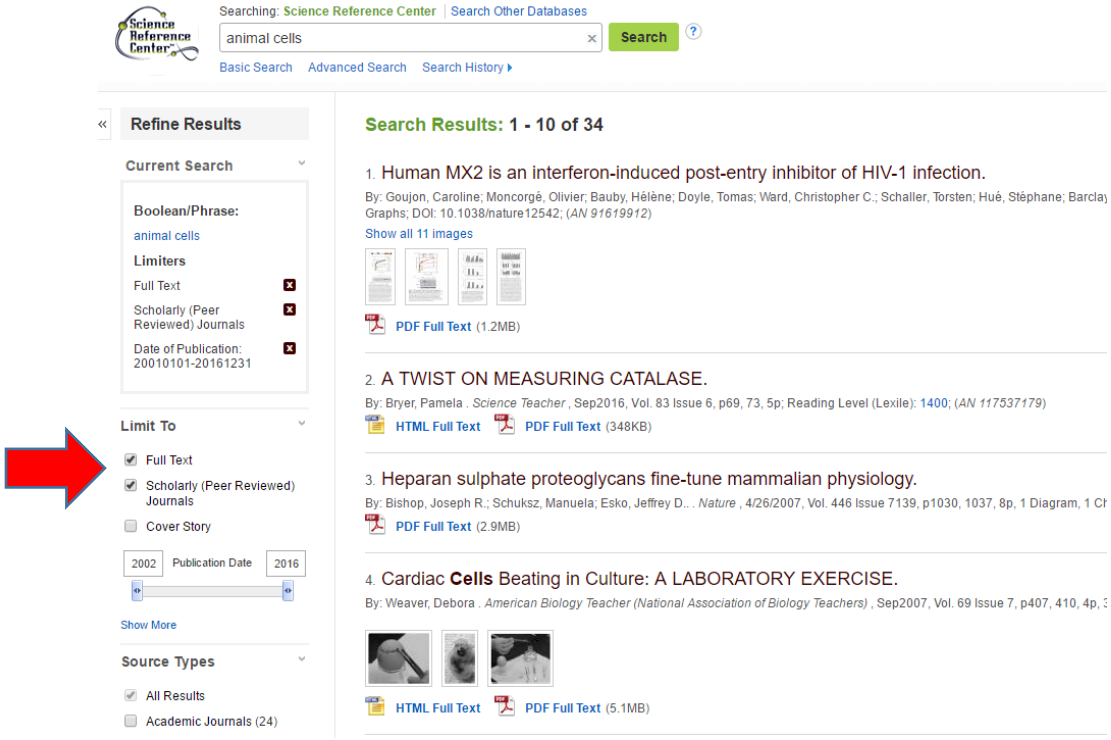
HOW TO ACCESS FULL-TEXT, PEER-REVIEWED SCIENCE ARTICLES FROM EBSCOHOST DATABASE

- Go to your library webpage
- Click on Digital Resources
- Click on EBSCOhost



- If you are not on campus, use the remote username and password for EBSCO (available on the library passwords bookmark and/or on your English/Science teacher's Canvas page)
- Scroll down to Science Reference Center; click on it.
- Type in a subject (ex: animal cells); click SEARCH.
- On the left side of the page, check the "Full Text" and "Scholarly (Peer Reviewed) Journals" boxes. You can also narrow the "Publication Date" by moving the slide bar.
- Click "Update."



- When you click on an article in EBSCO, you will often get just the abstract, so LOOK for a link that says, "HTML Full Text" or "PDF Full Text." Once accessed, you can print, email, save, cite, export, link, or bookmark your article.
